Evidence-Based Programs

Aggression Replacement Training (ART)

ART is a research-based, proven-effective approach for working with challenging youth. ART features three coordinated and integrated components: (1) Social Skills Training: teaches participants what to do, helping them replace antisocial behaviors with positive alternatives. (2) Anger Control: teaches participants what not to do, helping them respond to anger in a nonaggressive manner and rethink anger-provoking situations. (3) Moral Reasoning: helps raise participants' level of fairness, justice and concern for the needs and rights of others.

Family Functional Therapy (FFT)

FFT is an evidence-based intervention for youth and families. The high-quality, strength-focused counseling model is designed primarily for at-risk youth who have been referred by the juvenile justice, mental health, school or child welfare systems. Services are short term and conducted in both clinic and home settings and can also be provided in schools, child welfare facilities, probation and parole systems and mental health facilities.

Multisystemic Therapy (MST)

MST is an intensive family and community-based treatment that focuses on addressing all environmental systems that impact chronic juvenile offenders—their homes and families, schools and teachers, neighborhoods and friends. MST recognizes that each system plays a critical role in a youth's world and each system requires attention when effective change is needed to improve the quality of life for youth and their families. Sessions generally occur a minimum of two times per week for approximately 4 months and includes sessions for both parent and youth.

Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT)

TF-CBT is a therapeutic intervention designed to help children, adolescents and their parents overcome the impact of traumatic events. The focus of treatment is to assist the child or adolescent to develop coping strategies for traumatic stress reactions, and reduce symptoms of depression, anxiety, or acting out behavior which are common in children exposed to trauma. Sessions generally occur a minimum of two times per week for approximately 4 months and include sessions for both parent and youth.

ALTERNATIVE SOLUTIONS CREATING EXCELLENCE NOT DETENTION

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

ASCEND is a 10–12 month Accountability Court structured program that focuses on youth who have been adjudicated for a Class A or B Felony offense or are at risk for commitment to the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ). Through a judicially managed, team-based approach, ASCEND will provide evidence-based programming in an effort to reduce the number of youth committed to DJJ or secure confinement.

Evidence-Based Program (EBP). An EBP is an approach to treatment that has been scientifically proven to work. A program that “works” in juvenile justice can reduce crime, delinquency, family conflict, substance use, academic failure, and behavior problems. Youth may be referred to Aggression Replacement Training (ART) or another EBP as part of their participation in ASCEND.

VISION STATEMENT

Fulton County Juvenile Court seeks to reduce recidivism and foster rehabilitation amongst high-risk youth in the community through the implementation of EBP’s, facilitated in an accountability court model.
